About Me

My name is Maddalena Matera, and I am a professional illustrator and tattoo artist with a diverse and multidisciplinary background. I bring together expertise in traditional and scientific illustration, alongside formal studies in film. Additionally, I have gained experience in bookstore operations, rare book handling, art curation, website design, inventory control, and customer service.

My tattooing career is built on years of dedicated practice and continuous learning, combining creativity with precision. This unique blend of skills allows me to approach my work with both artistic vision and professionalism.
